STORY CIRCLE AND SCREEN PRINTING

Join Artist-Activist in Residence Lucía Salazar-Davidson for this new workshop series! We'll explore art rituals around community and solidarity, and think about how we connect with and show up for one another. These workshops are for everyone—no art experience is needed!

Workshop 1
Story Circle, November 8, Following Worship

We'll begin with a Story Circle, a practice from community-based theater where we'll take turns sharing short stories that matter to us. We'll also play a few theater games, then talk about what we heard to discover what we're most excited to help with as a community in local activism. What makes your sense of justice burn?

Workshop 2
Cut-Paper Stencil Screen Printing
November 15, Following Worship

Using the themes and causes we uncover in the first workshop, we'll make cut-paper stencil screen prints to keep or share!

Remember, no art or activist experience is needed in order to participate in these workshops!
